

Thomasin Kellermann

I am opposed to the use of scrubbers to discharge cruise waste. We cannot continue to treat the precious resource of our oceans as a garbage dump. This defies common sense. We must use technology and restraint (regulations) to solve this problem. It cannot continue. Species that depend on a clean ocean environment are suffering.