

terri wiley

So, if I'm understanding this correctly, you think that humans are more important than orcas. That our health is more important than theirs. That our pleasure is more important than their lives. What is wrong with you?