

Gladys Simerl

Dangerous elements, or any other "junk", should never be disposed of by dumping it into precious areas like the waters, soil, etc., that will only end us poisoning needed wildlife, fish, etc. including human beings. All are necessary to protect this God-created, given earth that sustains all life.