

Phyllis Farrell

Now is the time to protect Puget Sound from sewage pollution. The permit should protect and enhance Puget Sound water quality for marine life. The permit should require stringent nutrient reductions with established deadlines within 5 years, if not sooner. The Department of Ecology should determine and establish acceptable (based on science) technologies for the treatment facilities to implement.