

Dustin Jones

Charging farmers and rural livestock owners is ridiculous. We supply this nation with food! Do you think we farm for the money, no! Margins are so razor thin that this ridiculous tripe may put some of us over the edge.

How about you do something about the homeless. They are the real polluters. Dumping feces into our bodies of water and rivers. Not too mention the heroin and fenyanyl that is spread out in our parks and public areas. If you want to do something for the environment. Get the polluting homeless drug addicts off the street. Don't attack the producers of the state