There seems to be a lot of propaganda being distributed about what defines a CAFO. In my opinion small operations of 12 or even 50 hens aren't going to be pursued. It costs too much to go after them and wouldn't be in the spirit of any reasonable law. But (as the propaganda says) a farm of 25,000 laying hens? Now that should absolutely be regulated. Heck even anything over 1000 hens should be.
