

noah whitney

This is another way to put farmers out of business and increase food prices. People raising their own livestock for personal use will also suffer. This should not happen! Don't penalize farmers and people just trying to put food on their table.