

James Hanson

To maintain a vibrant, healthy environment you must allow innovators and producers to flourish. This arbitrary rule making is one more step toward environmental destruction. Please remove the yoke of bureaucracy from the producers before it's too late. I oppose this rule.

Also you should not consider any comments from individuals or groups from other states and countries.