

Leiloni Schulz

Big government needs to stay out of small family backyards. Youth can learn so much about responsibility through raising animals and participating in youth organizations like 4H and FFA. Such organizations keep kids off the street and out of trouble as well.