

Anonymous Anonymous

Animals have lived here longer than humans. It's always rained. There has always been manure made. Why don't you worry about the man made poison we spray on the ground that goes into our water and food supply. I'm certain your focus on chickens and cows is not the right answer to fix the issues you discuss. Start over.