

Kenneth Lattin

I have no doubt there are farms that purposely damage the environment. Go after those people and do an investigation. Don't punish every small farmer who cares for animals and cares for the parcel of earth that they control. Don't let the actions of the few punish everyone