

Lee Grauman

I am in absolute opposition to any of the proposed changes. I think our government has no business in the lives of small farms. I see this as only harmful to the already waining family farms in Washington state. We should have confidence in the responsibility many citizens take every day to the state and welfair of their animals without government supervision or regulation.