

Debra Mounts

My husband and I oppose the rules drafted with the comments. We farmers and ranchers follow the rules and regulations and we are proud people of integrity and work hard. We respect the environment and want to do the best for the land we love. The government allows the homeless to ruin and contaminate public owned land and you do nothing to them. We go above and beyond to protect and respect the land we love. You can trust us and depend on us for doing the right thing. Don't put us out of business and keep us from providing the food needed for family. Put your efforts where we need them, get the homeless camps out of the area.
