The reason that I moved to Soap Lake was for this unique healing lake. Not many people in the US realize the healing properties of this lake. With antibiotic resistance apparent in this day and age, people are returning back to natural sources. If this lake irreversibly degrades before more people realize, the water quality will lose all of it's uniqueness.

Not to elevate my qualifications, but I hold my opinion not just on word of mouth but on actual research. I hold multiple bachelor degrees, studied PhD level courses, currently holding a Masters of Science degree in computer science from Washington State University.

I encourage you to consider the ORW for Soap Lake and so do my family and relatives.
