

Meryle A. Korn

I strongly favor rules protecting the cleanliness of our waters by limiting as many as possible pollutants, especially fertilizers and organic (raw sewage) pollutants, from entering our streams, rivers and lakes. There will always be some pollutants in our waters, which is why we need and have facilities to purify, filter, and chemically or organically treat water for drinking.