

Luke Israel BA in Business SPU

Soap Lake is a cultural resource of significance for Native American Tribes and brings together people of many nationalities. Those who have utilized this lake believe that the mineral lake over time has proven its ability to heal multiple skin disorders and in some cases alleviate arthritis. Having the ORW status would improve the likelihood for grants needed for water quality testing and clean up work to prevent further degradation.