The Cascade River should be protected in its current pristine state. This river has beautiful water quality and an outstanding canyon. I am a whitewater kayaker and I hope to paddle the Cascade River soon. I have lived most of my adult life in Oregon, where I have run most of the whitewater rivers, but I have not had a chance to run all of the Washington State rivers that I am attracted to. I have hiked and camped along the Cascade river, and I hope to run it before I get too old. (I am 73 now.) It looks like it has some great kayak play spots!
