

Mary Ferm

It is vitally important that the City of Everett cease discharging harmful pollutants into Puget Sound. Personally, I am concerned about the health of my young grandchildren, who use the beaches in Edmonds, the Kitsap Peninsula and the San Juans. As a concerned citizen who values our Northwest wildlife, I am concerned about fish (including salmon) that we eat, and the magnificent Orcas, who are struggling with a huge toxin load accumulating in their bodies. City of Everett, this has gone on too long, and it's time to step up.