

Jim Seley

Section S3B5: Training vendors who come on to our site in the ways of Storm water Management is unreasonable. We cannot train every truck driver that may show up from UPS, FedEx, etc. We are responsible for our own storm water, regardless of whether we cause an issue, or some outside vendor does. If we choose to train vendors, fine, but the decisions should be made at the site level and take into consideration if the vendor is a regular, if they come onsite unsupervised, if we have the manpower and time to train, etc.