

Cassie Zsenits

I am a member of the public and am writing in support of the proposed rule change. Preservation of our delicate amphibian ecosystems and maximization of carbon capture is more important than ever, and Washington needs to continue to lead by example when it comes to ecological protections.