

Levi Patrick

First step would be actually walking the shore and stream banks to observe pollution sources. There are many people using the area as a toilet.