

John Alan Hossack

Why are homeless camps allowed to pollute in to California Creek with no consequences? There are 20 to 30 people who live across from Loomis Trial Golf Course right on the bank of California creek that throw all their trash and human waste right into the water . Why are Whatcom County leaders allowing this to happen ? Why are they not enforcing the laws already in place to prevent this destruction of our fisheries and waterways? They have been living there and polluting daily for years , this is unacceptable and must be stopped and Whatcom county must stop this destructive pollution immediately. This is about the health and protection of all people in the county . Take action and remove these camps as soon as possible for the safety of all of us.