

JOANA KIRCHHOFF

The Portland Raging Grannies stand in opposition to the Kalama project proposed by NW Innovation works. The history of the project is filled with false reports, shoddy science and a revolving door of investors - making it a less than desirable business for Kalama. The environmental impacts are numerous and I'm sure you will have many comments on those impacts. We want to focus on the instability of the company and the fossil fuel economy at this time. Please add that to your calculations so that Kalama is not left holding the bill for the facility. Kalama does not want a superfund site!!!
