Dear Mr. Doenges, I attended the informative presentation yesterday on the second EIS and public hearing. I am a 3 year resident of Vancouver Washington and very concerned about the environmental risks created by the proposed gas to methanol refinery at Kalama. Although new to the PNW, I am active in conservation groups to stay informed on various sides of environmental issues. When we moved to Vancouver WA the big issue was the proposed gas terminal at the Port of Vancouver WA; it was voted down by the majority. I believe Kalama is a similar situation. Demand for methanol is going down and the environmental risks to the regional population-both short and long term-are too great. I don't know that we can trust the proponent company to carry out the promised mitigation and create the number of jobs. Let's create jobs in the green energy sector! Please don't approve the Kalama refinery. Thanks for considering my comments. Linda Buckley, Vancouver WA resident
