

Sharon Bucher

Hello my name is Dr. Sharon Busher, I practice pediatrics in Vancouver for 35 years and lived in Battleground Washington. I first learned about greenhouse gases global warming, and premed classes in the seventies. It took 20 years to make it to the front page of time magazine. In the early nineties. It is now more than 30 years and we have yet to take adequate steps to address this crisis. It is or fined to me that this project is even being considered all we are in the midst of a climate emergency. In Los Angeles where I grew up, they recently recorded the highest number ever, 121 °, try living in that. I sympathize with you who need jobs who are in the building trades but guess what? The global South will need the buildings will make. To live and leave it, they are coming. We still have rain. We still have water. This project will emit tons of greenhouse gases and it will use up tons of water. It will pollute the water use to Frak the wells. The lateral pipeline will take animals used for domain. Not for the common good but for the profit of the Chinese company. The methanol is likely to be used for making plastic. And this is a world, that is drowning in plastic, which we were told to be recycled for those profiting from its manufacture. In the same way we are being told speculation about how this project will actually lower greenhouse gases which is truly laughable. We need a stable agriculture, livable climate, don't do it. Deny the comments.