

Amanda Doimas

I moved to the Pacific NW 20 years ago to get away from a state (AZ) that continues to engage in destructive mining practices and neglect its precious water sources. Please do not allow this to happen here. We have been enduring horrific wildfires without introducing extremely flammable materials near our forests and water. I worry for our rivers and our impending earthquake future. Portland, my home, is not just upriver it is also downriver on the tidal Willamette.