

Nancy Mogielnicki

Re Kalama: In this era of climate emergency I believe it is disastrous to build a plant which relies on transported methane (given information about leaks and role of methane as a greenhouse gas). Whether the methanol will be used for plastics or fuel doesn't matter; both are injurious and we must transition to other materials.