Dear Sirs:

How can you be spending all this time on carbon dioxide causing planet warming when the amount of cooling to be expected if the US stopped all fossil fuel burning now might only result in a fractional degree of cooling by 2100. How many real catastrophes might happen in this time frame?

Spend money on real and present dangers!

Carbon dioxide emitted is greening the earth and providing additional food that is happening now and well documented. See Matt Ridley and CO2science.org.

The opponents goal is population control which science has proven to be short sighted. It is a power grab for a world wide government.

Bottom line is if producing more Methanol is a net benefit to earth's inhabitants go for it.
