

Don Steinke

>> My wife and I are using the same computer and she will testify after me. I am a retired science teacher, 40 years mostly at Vancouver I with the, it had been difficult to get all the states related to a proposal. Maker requires you to prepare a whole EIS that tells us the truth and nothing but the truth. But it gave us only part of the truth the law of speculation. I'm not even sure you read your own EIS. Did you write it? Where the remarks about this placement potentially your own? Or did they come from the proponent? Natural gas industry is the absolute master of deceit and lies. They persuaded us that most plastic is recycled.

Where it is not. They are advertising on TV and Facebook right now about the pathway, their pathway to the clean sustainable future. And all the emissions are accounted for, gases nearly as bad as coal and ethanol is worse. Methanol is the opposite and it is a pollution added product. That are to use the fuel at the source then to add the illusion generated by a methanol plant. The gas industry has known about climate change for decades. What has engaged in the campaign of deception to help sell the products. They have fooled most of the public and elected officials. Pulled the green groups as well. Until we learned about methane leaks in 2014. And out trying to full you with the displacement theory. Don't believe anything they say and get rid of the speculation and the EIS and protect the future and say no to the destruction. Now my wife who is registered to speak.