

Rob Harris

Manufacturing facilities that provides paper and cardboard for all the purchasing being made by Amazon, that is the preferred rate of shopping these days. Not to mention the bulk of the power coming from the coal-fired facility-- which I think everyone will like to see transition to a cleaner, burning fuel. I support of our mental action. I support advancement and transitional fuels and feedstocks and I support the Kalama process and innovation works. We need this in our community, it's a progressive step, we cannot cut off our nose despite our face angle from where we are today 20. And maintain any quality of life, people in Southwest Washington have enjoyed, hunting, fishing, boating, coexisting with industrial and a factoring for the last 90 years. So climate commissioners. The DOE, it's time to approve this project. Give all waited too long.