The present fires should be a wake-up call that we need to stop causing emissions that effect our greenhouse gas emissions. Climate change is here and if we fail to address it we will be at its mercy. I ask you to reject this methanol refinery plant and decline the Shoreline Permit necessary to build it. It is planned to be located close to a major river, the Columbia, and threatens pollution of it's water. It is slated to be sent to Asia where it will be used to manufacture plastics. This refinery is being built for all the wrong reasons. We must change to manufacturing non-polluting products and switch from fossil fuels if we are to survive on this planet. Sincerely, Lorraine Heller
