

William Forbes

There is no excuse for building more plastics manufacturing infrastructure when there is no longer any way to recycle plastics! This is clearly unsustainable and Washington deserves better. It's as simple as that. Just look at your own weekly trash and how much volume is plastics that can no longer be exported to other countries for processing and reuse. Exporting methanol to other countries just creates more global waste! Stop it - now!