

carolyn atkinson

Kalama is already burning. It will burn again. It is burning because of the destruction to our atmosphere caused by fossil fuel and manufacturing projects like this one. Fossil fuels are flammable. Why on Earth are we even considering building a facility for explosive, toxic products in a wildfire risk area?