

Geoff Wilson

We live in a time of active climate change. All and resources that are potentially hazardous to the environment need to be reconsidered strongly. Methane is a particularly harmful gas to the environment. For this reason I am strongly opposed to all methane producing products at this time.