

Linda Boyd

I urge you to say "no" to the Kalama plant, which would be another nail in the coffin for human life. The west coast is choking as our life-giving forests go up in smoke. Atmospheric carbon levels are soaring past 415 ppm, arctic ice is melted, and the jet stream is unstable. Forget about your grandchildren, it is now unlikely that people born today will be able to live out their natural lives due to climate chaos. Shame on NW Innovation Works and their deadly plans! Please, vote 'NO' on the Kalama plant.