

Ruth Dallas

It is past time to stop building fossil fuel plants period. Many professionals will comment on the dangers of this project. I will just ask the committee members this: When will you decide that no number of jobs and no increase in your tax base is worth destroying the well being of your children or mine. When it is too late, when the rising temperatures are irreversible what will you tell your children you did to stand up for their lives. Every plant only adds to the problem but together they doom the planet.