

Charles K. Hof

Fracking is the worst method of extraction for oil and gas and is not viable. To create a plant for the use of fracked fuel, and then ship it out of country for a use that may change strikes me as a bad idea and detrimental to the planet. For once it leaves our shores there is no control as to who or how it is used.