

Russ Ayers

As an investor and citizen I am categorically opposed to any scheme which increases our use of fossil fuels or, worse, which proposes to extract them for sale to other countries in the pursuit of short term profit. At the very least these resources should be viewed as strategically important and ideally as environmentally unsustainable to use. This project combines the worst of both and should be stopped. I am appalled that this project could have been conceived or planned outside of the US Gulf Coast.