This is a disastrous environmental project. Fracking is a horribly dirty polluting industry-horrible for the environment. 1. Increases earthquakes (reference Oklahoma) 2. Poisons underground water and wells (reference Pennsylvania) 3. Increases methane in the atmosphere that will exponentially hasten climate change (yes it is happening, do not deny-witness superstorms in this country as well as world, massive unprecedented fires) 4. Our first people's oppose due to all these reasons and 5. Our own puget sound and wildlife are dying-the last thing everything needs is increased shipping, increased risks of spills, noises to kill our orcas, acidification killing fish....there needs to be leadership in supporting existing new technologies distinct from the fossil fuel industry which is killing the earth and any chances of a future for younger generations.
