

Jeff Ramsden

The fragile ecosystem we all share does not need more threats and potential destruction. Would love for my kids and my kids' kids to have some semblance of the earth that we grew up with. Please stop this madness of valuing money over the well-being of future generations.