

Theresa Ayers

This project makes no economic or environmental sense and should be stopped in its tracks. In addition to a failed business and environmental case, the diversion of American fuel resources for the benefit of Asian countries runs contrary to our national interests.