

Elena Wood

A dam won't stop flooding long-term, but what it will do is destroy irreplaceable habitat for salmon, elk, birds, steelhead, entire foodwebs as well as native people whose cultural and spiritual lives depend on this river. In an era in which we are seeing the benefit of river restoration through dam removal it is incredibly tone-deaf to consider putting this dam in. I urge you to never let this dam see the light of day.