

Harley McAllister

Salmon numbers are in decline regionally, and this project creates significant added risk. Furthermore, there is no plan for funding and supporting ongoing operation of this dam. There are alternatives that provide benefits to both flood protection and ecosystems that would serve us better in the long run.