

Amanda Baker

I am commenting in OPPOSITION to the damming of the Chehalis River. Putting any kind of dam on this river would be catastrophic for salmon populations and in turn, for our critically endangered Southern Resident Killer Whale population. Investing in other, already proven and beneficial methods of wetlands restoration to prevent flooding would ensure Washington isn't moving backwards and is looking to the future. Not only the future of our wildlife but the future safety of our residents. Thank you.