

Jena Gilman

I am a licensed civil engineer specializing in coastal and river hydraulics. The Chehalis River Basin Flood Damage Reduction Project will have too much impact on the adjacent and downstream environment. As it is the last major free-flowing river in this part of Washington, the benefits of this project pale in comparison with the risks it entrails. I oppose the Chehalis Project.