

Bruce Hlodnicki

Flooding is normal, natural and necessary for many rivers and stream ecosystems.

Avoiding/limiting all flooding should never be the goal of a natural river system.

Protecting the ecosystems and the humans who live in and around these rivers must be the goals.

Your job here is NOT to establish "CONTROL" over the river..