

Michael Hoffman

I am opposed to damming the Chehalis River. We have years of controversy on other dammed Washington State rivers regarding their negative impacts on wildlife, especially salmon. There is now active work to remove many of these dams due to their negative impacts. Surely this historical data reinforces a decision to not erect more dams. We humans are an intelligent species and I am sure that all of the comments on the proposal include alternative solutions that can be enacted. Thank you.