

Susan Rounds

In an era of increasing rate of dam removals to reverse environmental damage and environmental degradation, it doesn't make sense for build an expensive new dam on the last free flowing river in SW Washington. For the sake of budgetary economy, protection of salmon runs which support ocean wildlife and species diversity, indigenous rights and heritage, please discard the plan for the Chehalis dam and identify other options for flood management and control. Thank you, Susan Rounds