To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my opposition to the proposed FRE dam on the upper Chehalis River. At a time in which so much work has been done to promote salmon recovery in our region, the completion of a project that would cause significant harm to salmon and steelhead (according to the DEIS) is ill-advised. Putting the river's ecological health at long-term risk is not justified by the benefits the project would offer.

I would encourage the DOE to pursue alternative solutions for flood control rather than the proposed dam.

Thank you for your time, and for considering my comments.
