

Thorly James

The Chehalis is a Chinook stronghold and one of Washington's last free-flowing salmon rivers. We are all connected. Please think long term of our, and Southern Resident Orcas' grandchildren's grandchildren . Do not destroy critical Chinook habitat for a project the state says would have significant environmental impacts. I support solutions that protect both people AND fish.